What Teachers Say

DonorsChoose.org teachers are a creative, passionate bunch who go above and beyond for their students. Here's what they have to say.

“DonorsChoose.org made me fully aware of the generosity of complete strangers. It has renewed my passion for teaching and has provided so many opportunities for my students.”

Tonya Coats Elementary school teacher, California

“From paper and snacks, to movie tickets and sailing lessons, the opportunities teachers create for their students with the help of the generous donors at DonorsChoose.org inspire me to keep pushing myself professionally and personally. I loved my job already, but DonorsChoose.org helps me love it even more.”

“My teaching has changed dramatically. I now allow myself to teach my students that the sky's the limit and that there are people who want to support them. Funded projects are a vote of confidence that the work we're doing matters. My principal says, 'It seems like Christmas all the time in Weaver's room!'”

Jill Weaver Junior high school science, Ohio

“DonorsChoose.org is so easy to use. It’s made especially for teachers and supporters of education, so it draws a unique audience that is committed to teachers and students.”

Elizabeth Mundt 4th grade teacher, Minnesota

“It doesn’t take me long to create a project. The time I invest is totally worth it because, with the help of DonorsChoose.org, I’m able to bring so many things into my classroom.”

Tran Polizzi 6th grade teacher, California

“I feel as if I have a million people cheering me on and supporting my educational practice.”

Monique Dituri High school teacher, New Jersey

Ms. Mehta's class in California got an incubator to hatch chicks

“My students were overjoyed to receive our incubators and brooder in the mail, and we can't wait to use them this spring to hatch chicks as part of our oviparous animals thematic unit!”

Mrs. Chung's class in Hawaii received a 3D printer

“The students' learning and my teaching have changed as a result of this new equipment.”

Mr. Dinkel's class in Kansas received legos

“From the very first day, when student excitedly opened the large cardboard boxes during our class meeting revealing the Lego sets, to the lessons connecting important math concepts with the popular toy, student engagement has been present.”
